

Gruesome Playground Injuries

By 2010 Pulitzer Prize Finalist Rajiv Joseph

Friday, August 3 at 8:00 PM, Saturday, August 4 at 2:30 PM & Sunday, August 5 at 2:30 PM

UALR Haislip Theatre 127 in the Center for Performing Arts

Admission is Free. Call 569-3291 for more information.

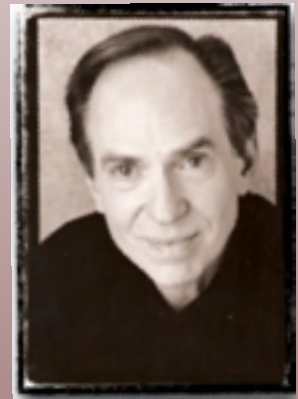

Kayleen (Emily Wold) and Doug's (TJ Medel) eight-year-old lives collide in the nurse's office when Doug rides his bike off the roof of the school and Kayleen can't stop throwing up. Over the course of the next 30 years, the lives of these made-for-each-other masochists continue to intersect, leading the two childhood friends to compare their physical and emotional scars. These two soul mates may be continually drawn together, but that may not be enough to heal each other's wounds. When Kayleen tells Doug that she can't hurt someone else the way she hurts herself, Doug responds with: "I'm not someone else. I'm you." This play is a crash course in growing up, getting hurt, and the healing power of love." Truly a different type of love story, Gruesome Playground Injuries will leave you smarting from its sharp humor and sharper insights.

It's The Straight Goods

"While we are in limited class sessions each summer, there are never any limits to the creative efforts of our students and faculty. Indeed, for past few summers, The UT and Haislip theaters have been the home to crowd pleasing theatre and dance projects created by student companies and put together especially to engage the Little Rock community. I invite you to come in out of the summer heat and into the intensity of our collective imaginations. This promises to be an exciting weekend!

THEATRE ARTS AND DANCE DEPARTMENT

ARTISTS IN RESONANCE DANCE PROJECT

EMERGING CHOREGRAPHER'S SHOWCASE

AUGUST 4TH AND 5TH AT 8:00PM

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS AT LITTLE ROCK
UNIVERSITY THEATRE

2801 S. UNIVERSITY AVE, LITTLE ROCK, AR 72204

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT: SIPPOLITO.AIR@GMAIL.COM

The dance concert will be held on August 4th and 5th 2012 at 8:00pm at UALR University Theater in the Center for Performing Arts building. Admission is free but there will be a silent auction sponsored by the Ovolution project before the event both nights. The proceeds of the silent auction will go to Safe Places charity. Artistic director, Sydney Ippolito has based this performance around collaborations with other artists. "There are seven different choreographers and we have used many different art forms as our springboards for our projects. One of the pieces includes live musicians playing a specifically composed piece of music while others contain live poetry and the use of props. Please support the arts in Little Rock!"

Theatre and Dance 2012/2013 Season

The Bacchae of Euripides
by C. K. Williams

October 11-14, 2012
October 18-21, 2012
Haislip Arena Theatre

Dance Harvest
November 15-18, 2012
University Theatre

boom
by Peter Sinn Nachtrieb

February 20-24, 2013
Haislip Arena Theatre

Fringe Festival
March 19-21, 2013

Body Works
April 18-21, 2013
University Theatre